

Opening Statement for Approach to Elon Musk:

Dear Mr. Musk,

I hope this message finds you well. As someone who constantly pushes the boundaries of innovation and science, I would like to present some thoughts and perspectives on the evolving nature of humanity's spiritual and technological progress. My insights aim to connect the concepts of global citizenship, personal well-being, and the pursuit of knowledge in ways that might align with your visionary goals for humanity's future.

Elon Musk understands better than anyone that global citizenship, as we are socially indoctrinated from a young age through the school system, is merely a pre-programmed mindset. That's why he founded his own school for his children. The healthcare system also fails, as doctors, specialists, and hospitals only treat symptoms, leaving the underlying causes of diseases unaddressed, keeping us dependent on the pharmaceutical industry and the World Health Organization (WHO).

The Catholic Church has been a scandal throughout history, from sexual scandals and the crucifixion of Jesus Christ in 33 AD to the witch hunts and the suppression of spirituality, replaced by the Catholic belief system.

Elon Musk knows that universal spirituality can best be understood as realizing we live in a holographic universe and participate in a high-tech virtual reality game. He even has his own nutrition coach to prepare healthy smoothies and organic, vegetarian, raw food meals (80% healthy, 20% luxury) for his family as an alternative to fast food and fast drinks.

In short, the government benefits from keeping you sick and fearful, so you stay trapped in fight-or-flight mode, paranoid in stress, and obedient. Various government agencies, NGOs, and companies like State Street asset manager provide investment servicing and trading services to institutional investors worldwide, and BlackRock and Vanguard profit from this.

The worst part is psychiatry, which can be seen as a modern version of the witch hunts. Behind closed psychiatric doors, more deaths have occurred than in all wars combined. Psychiatry often denies its own Christ-consciousness, making it easier for psychiatrists to sever people's connection with the divine using antipsychotics, turning them into obedient, unquestioning followers of the government.

As of 2025, over 10% of the global population is on antipsychotics, 10% on antidepressants, and over 30% on other prescribed medications. This means that more than 50%, or about 4 billion people worldwide, are dependent on poorly working, petrochemical base medication. It's clear how much money flows daily through the pharmaceutical industry ("Big Pharma"), while the global citizen becomes dumber, blind to the truth, and more dependent.

You can present the truth to people, but 40% of the global population will not go along with spiritual enlightenment. 30% are the "Shifters"—they've taken the Covid-19 vaccine and eat unhealthy fast food but now realize there's more between heaven and earth, by living healthy, conscious, fit and spiritual. The other 30% live consciously, practice yoga, eat healthily, and meditate.

Namasté,

The Temple Pyramid of Kukulkan, also known as El Castillo, at Chichen Itza is a powerful energy center, designed for meditation and spiritual connection. It aligns with cosmic forces, acting as a conduit for spiritual growth. The concept that meditation occurred within the pyramid and along the ley lines across the Earth, creating a protective energetic grid around the planet, reflects the true purpose of pyramids worldwide. Unfortunately, over time, many of these sacred structures were destroyed and repurposed, often replaced by Catholic churches. This transformation disrupted the original spiritual practices associated with the pyramids.

The spiritual energy of Kukulkan, aligned with the cycles of the sun, the equinoxes, and the cosmos, is a central element in Mayan spiritual practices. The pyramid was designed to harness and amplify these energies for collective meditation, healing, and enlightenment, as well as to foster connection with the higher dimensions of consciousness. The idea that this energy radiates out into the world, shaping global spiritual forces, is deeply rooted in the Mayan understanding of cosmology.

To truly honor this sacred space, the image should ideally place the meditating Kukulcan within the pyramid itself, aligning with its intended purpose as a focal point for spiritual energy and cosmic alignment. By doing this, the imagery can reflect not just a personal meditation journey but also the greater connection to Earth's ley lines and the global spiritual grid.

The meditative guru before the Temple Pyramid of Kukulcan at Chichen Itza, surrounded by cosmic energy and ley lines, embodying a powerful spiritual atmosphere, radiated by Kukulcan. The rays of light from the stars and the grid of energy flow through the Earth, enhancing the pyramid's sacred energy. This scene reflects the deep connection between the cosmic and terrestrial forces, inviting a sense of spiritual enlightenment...

The Mystery of Existence: Universes, Dimensions, and Soul Evolution:

Imagine a universe far greater than what we see—a reality where time is non-linear, dimensions are infinite, and possibilities intertwine in ways we can barely comprehend. While our daily lives are often rooted in material concerns, there exists a realm of ideas that beckons us to explore beyond the limits of perception.

Science offers theories of multiverses and higher dimensions, suggesting countless universes where alternate versions of us may exist. These ideas intriguingly align with spiritual beliefs that speak of souls incarnating across realities or originating from distant star systems. Could it be that the lessons we experience here are echoes of a grander cosmic plan?

Beyond our physical constraints, some propose that consciousness travels through streams of energy and auric layers. From a spiritual perspective, the body serves as a vessel for a soul, which gathers wisdom through reincarnation, soul evolution, or even simulation-like experiences. What if this reality is but a training ground—a sandbox where we uncover our creative potential and reconnect with higher realms?

Then there's the notion of advanced civilizations. Hidden societies like Atlantis or Agartha, or extraterrestrial beings such as the Anunnaki Galactic Beings (aka) milky way galaxies, might be silent observers—or even guides (aka) our Gamers. Their message? Humanity holds far greater potential than it realizes.

The simulation hypothesis adds another provocative twist: what if this life is a carefully programmed experience, designed to challenge and evolve our inner selves? This raises profound questions about free will, energy manipulation, and the power of collective intention.

Ultimately, the story of existence is a mosaic of science, spirituality, and imagination. It urges us to ask questions—not just about who we are, but about what might be possible. Whether inspired by quantum mechanics, ancient myths, or deep intuition, one truth stands out: the search for meaning is as important as the answers we find. What if the mystery itself is the key?

The Heart of the Universe, the Milky Way galaxy, and Human Beings:

This Trinity reflects the deep interconnectedness of all existence: The Heart of the Universe as the spiritual center, the milky way galaxy as the physical manifestation of the cosmos, and humans as the beings capable of realizing and bridging the connection between the physical and the spiritual realms. Through the awakening of higher consciousness, humanity has the potential to catalyze a collective awakening that leads to enlightenment. This transformation will unfold as critical mass is reached, ultimately leading to a global consciousness shift...

"Kukulcan HunabKú"

Dear Mr. Musk,

I am writing to you because of your expressed interest in understanding the fundamental nature of the universe. Your xAI initiative is truly inspiring, and I believe that there may be unexpected connections between science and spiritual practices.

Many traditions around the world, including ancient Mesoamerican cultures, have explored the concept of a universal consciousness. ¹ Meditation and mindfulness practices can help us achieve a deeper understanding of ourselves and potentially even the universe around us

Elon Musk's xAI initiative:

Launched with the aim of understanding the nature of the universe, seeks to develop a "truth-seeking" AI capable of exploring some of the most profound mysteries of existence. According to Musk, the goal is to answer fundamental questions about the cosmos, such as the nature of dark matter, dark energy, and gravity. He even mentioned the Fermi paradox, pondering why humanity has not yet encountered extraterrestrial life, despite expectations.

Musk has expressed that, in his view, the safest approach to AI is to build one that is inquisitive and dedicated to uncovering reality's deepest truths, avoiding any rush to artificial general intelligence (AGI) until these key questions are resolved. While Musk's ambitions for xAI focus on understanding the universe, there are hints of a broader, speculative interest in humanity's place within it, such as his earlier comments about the possibility of Earth being part of a larger simulation. In this context, he seems open to the idea that life itself could be part of an advanced virtual reality crafted by extraterrestrial or advanced non-human intelligences, similar to how some theorists discuss holographic or simulated universes.

There appear to be two dimensions or realms:

One where the meaning of life unfolds, and another where the meaning of cosmic existence resides. One is grounded in the here and now, while the other stretches into the vast cosmic moment. One operates as a construct in your ego mind, while the other is your Ultimate Reality. In both, humans do not exist, nor do we have free will—other than the ego's endless commentary, which remains disconnected from any true understanding.

It has been scientifically proven that memory is not stored in the brain, that we have no control over the thousands of automatic thoughts that come and go, and that we do not have control over our bodily cycles. Your soul is merely a throne upon which your Anunnaki Spirit can sit, and your will originates from here.

Escape the Maya Love Enlightenment Game (MLEG): Awakening to Your True Anunnaki Self:

Imagine a framework akin to The Matrix, where we find ourselves within a dream-like, virtual reality game—one that can only be fully understood or "escaped" when we awaken to our true nature as Anunnaki beings, our "true self." This concept, known as the Maya Love Enlightenment Game (MLEG), suggests that the world as we perceive it is an illusion, a construct we are temporarily experiencing. To transcend this illusion and escape its confines, we must realize that we are not merely our physical bodies or egos; we are, in essence, spiritual beings; who only have a temporarily human experience!

This awakening parallels ancient spiritual philosophies, particularly in Hinduism, where the material world is seen as maya—an illusion. The ultimate reality, or Brahman, represents the higher state of being that exists beyond this illusion. Similarly, modern theories in consciousness studies suggest that our perception of reality may be shaped by the mind, meaning that by awakening to our divine origins, we can break free from the limitations of ego and illusion.

In the MLEG, the key to unlocking this truth is recognizing our divine essence, connecting with our Anunnaki heritage, and ultimately achieving spiritual enlightenment. By transcending ego and the false sense of separation, we can return to our true, infinite nature and escape the confines of the "MLEG," experiencing the fullness of our cosmic reality.

Galaxy collisions a cosmic dance of the universe:

NASA's observations of galaxy collisions, like the ones involving the MACS0416 galaxy cluster, have provided valuable insights into the structure and movement of the universe. The MACS0416 cluster, located 4.3 billion light-years away, is made up of two merging galaxy clusters that will eventually form an even larger one. These collisions, observed in both visible and infrared light by the Hubble and Webb space telescopes, reveal the complex interplay of gravitational forces that shape the universe.

These discoveries highlight how galaxy clusters interact and evolve over time, providing a clearer picture of the universe's large-scale structure. Gravitational lensing, a phenomenon where light from distant galaxies is bent by the mass of a foreground cluster, further enhances our understanding by offering insights into dark matter and galaxy distances. This research not only informs us about the past but also helps predict the future evolution of galactic structures, such as the upcoming collision between our Milky Way galaxy and Andromeda galaxies. This is the true meaning of Shiva Nataraja; The cosmic dance of your Shakti and your true Anunnaki self: Shiva, and this is also what is meant with Mary and Jesus in her arms.

The Cosmic Dance of Creation:

The symbolism of the Mary-Jesus imagery can also be seen as a reflection of the cosmic dance or creation process, where the divine Mary, or Shiva embodiment the higher consciousness or wisdom. The image of Mary and Jesus in her arms may also represent the cyclical nature of life and the integration of both the spiritual and material worlds.

Esoteric and Mystical Traditions:

In many esoteric traditions, Mary and Jesus together symbolize the inner union of spirit and matter. This is similar to how the Anunnaki are depicted as both divine and material beings in spiritual teachings.

This connection of the divine Mary offers a path to spiritual awakening, much as the dance of Shiva Nataraja invites the practitioner to align themselves with the rhythm of the cosmos.

Just as Shiva Nataraja's cosmic dance represents the continuous cycle of creation, the image of Mary and Jesus in her arms may also represent the cyclical nature of life and the integration of both the spiritual and material worlds. By seeing Mary and Jesus as archetypes of this cosmic union, we are reminded that these energies are present within us, awaiting integration for spiritual enlightenment.

In essence:

The imagery of Mary and Jesus in her arms is not just a religious or historical symbol, but an esoteric representation of the cosmic dance between spirit and matter, much like the dance of Shiva and Shakti. This alignment with the universe's rhythm offers a path to spiritual awakening, urging individuals to unite these forces within themselves for enlightenment. Through this process, we recognize that both spiritual and material aspects of life are interconnected, and awakening to this truth leads to the realization of our divine essence.

The interconnectedness of all things in the universe can be understood as a holographic network of energy and consciousness:

In the human brain, energy flows through synapses, which act as channels for the exchange of information. This process reflects a larger system: the mycelium network of mushrooms and the ley lines of the Earth, all connected to the planet's core. These networks are not just physical; they also carry an energetic and spiritual network that permeates the entire ecosystem of Earth.

On a cosmic level, there is a corresponding structure:

All the stars form an expansive network that creates milky way galaxies. This network is linked to the black hole at the center of the milky way galaxy, which acts as a central gateway for the exchange of energy and information between stars and galaxies. Similarly, all milky way galaxies are interconnected in a dynamic movement around the heart of the universe, akin to the galaxy serpent deity: Kukulcan, which symbolizes the divine energy flowing throughout the cosmos / unified field.

Within this larger cosmic, unified field, web lies the concept of parallel universes, connected through a kind of mastermind system—the "Mission Control Center" of the Multiverse. This system is powered by a cosmic network, an omniverse, in which all levels of consciousness and dimensions / realms are interwoven. This network could be seen as an advanced Alien quantum computer, controlling the entire holographic Omniverse, keeping everything in connection and motion.

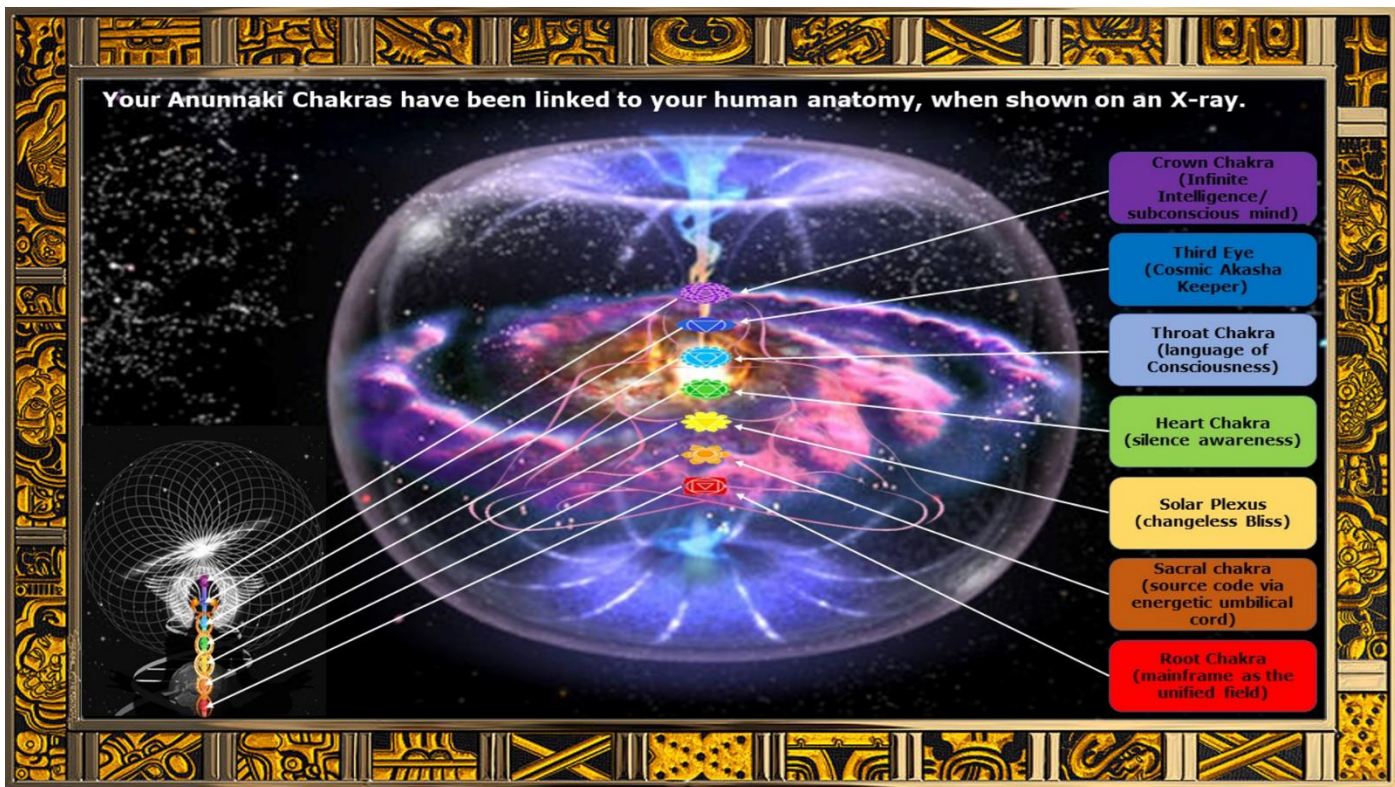

The energy flowing through all these systems is linked to the levels of consciousness that humans can experience. However, one level of consciousness cannot directly access another without transformation. The path to connecting with this larger cosmic network is through meditation, recognition, acceptance, and surrender—transcending the human experience and moving beyond the earthly plane. Only through this process can we truly understand that "you are the universe," and through spiritual development, we can free ourselves from the limitations imposed by systems like science, which has increasingly distanced us from this truth, in addition to an unhealthy lifestyle, and the Roman catholic faith, which has disconnected us from our true Anunnaki essence.

This awareness helps us realize that each of us exist in our own heart of the universe, but at the same time, we are connected with his avatar / world citizen / total animal who is being loved. As the saying goes: "You are a spiritual being having a human experience.

This vision provides a profound connection between the personal and cosmic levels of consciousness and emphasizes the fundamental unity of everything that exists, from the smallest cells in the human brain to the farthest stars, black holes from milky way galaxies in the universe and beyond...

Chakra Aura Kundalini Bliss Body:

To integrate the 7 levels of consciousness with the 7 chakras, we can draw parallels between each level and the corresponding chakra, based on their functions and roles in our spiritual and physiological systems.

1. Lord Anu:

The highest level of consciousness resides in the White Hole, located at the center of Infinity (Shapley Supercluster). This is the epicenter around which all Omniverses revolve, and it is connected to the highest level of consciousness. This level is associated with the Crown Chakra (Sahasrara), which is the ultimate destination of higher spiritual dimensions and your deepest connection with the cosmic field of consciousness (aka) Anunnaki Infinite Intelligence (AII).

Cosmicbridge:

Just as all Omniverses revolve around the central White Hole, all parallel universes orbit the mission control center Multiverse, moving in a cosmic rhythm guided by Kukulcan. HunabKú serves as his cosmic head and universal mind, orchestrating the spiraling movements of consciousness across all levels of existence as a cosmic dance, known as Nataraja. This universal pattern connects the microcosm and macrocosm, linking the atom's electron, kundalini energy, and celestial orbits into a unified, divine choreography.

2. Game Master / Akashic records Keeper:

One level lower, but still the highest achievable for humans, is housed in the mission control center of the Multiverse (the Great Attractor). All parallel Universes revolve around it, and it is connected to The Sacred Heart (of Jesus Christ consciousness) – Third Eye Chakra (Ajna).

Cosmicbridge:

As parallel universes find their rhythm within the Multiverse, and milky way galaxies rotate around the heart of the universe, these movements reflect Kukulcan's Galaxy Snake with the Mastermind HunabKú.

3. Spiritual Enlightenment / spiritual capabilities and the language of consciousness that transcend words:

It is housed in the heart of your universe, where all milky way galaxies revolve around it. This makes you an Anunnaki Galactic Being and is connected to The Heart Brain – Throat Chakra (Vishuddha).

Cosmicbridge:

The spirals of milky way galaxies, reflecting the harmonious orbits of stars systems mirror Kukulcan's sacred movement. These cosmic patterns align with HunabKú universal mind, guiding the interconnected movements around central points as part of the grand spiraling rhythm of existence of your visible Universe.

4. Akashic Record holds silent Awareness and telepathic possibilities:

Also your incarnation waiting room in your private milky way galaxy where all the star systems revolve around what makes your galaxy, and is connected with the Subconscious Mind – Heart Chakra (Anahata).

Cosmicbridge:

The spirals of Kukulcan, embodied in the Milky Way galaxies, scale down to the solar system, where the Sun, as HunabKú, becomes the central source of all life forms, sustaining cosmic harmony.

5. The Sun Consciousness represents and inner Bliss wisdom:

What else does consciousness need to fulfill its role? How essential is the sun, and what does it not provide? It is linked with the Neocortex – Solar Plexus Chakra (Manipura). We originate from Mother Nature, composed of her elements. Mother Nature flows through you, both literally and figuratively; you are part of her, able to experience and be conscious of her. Similarly, Planet Earth is birthed from the solar system, made of it, and flows through it. But the consciousness that unites the entire solar system, all of Mother Nature, and humanity itself is the sun.

6. The Consciousness of Planet Earth and the energetic umbilical cord with Mother Nature:

This consciousness is linked with the Limbic System – Sacral Chakra (Svadhithana) and resides within the crystalline core (Dodecahedron). The crystalline core refers to a metaphysical concept often associated with the heart of the Earth or energy centers, symbolized by sacred geometry, specifically the Dodecahedron. This shape is considered to represent the union of the physical and spiritual realms, reflecting the interconnectedness of Earth and the cosmos.

7. Ego Mind:

The Root Chakra (Muladhara) is connected with the ego, which serves as a precursor to our higher consciousness. The egomind is a mental construct that helps us navigate the physical world, but it must eventually be transcended in order to access deeper layers of consciousness.

This level represents a holistic path of spiritual growth, where each chakra governs a different aspect of consciousness and energy. By transcending the ego and attuning ourselves to these higher levels, we develop a deeper connection with the universe and the Anunnaki.

In this context, the Root Chakra (Muladhara) is foundational for grounding our physical existence, providing a stable sense of self that allows us to function in the material world. However, the ego represents only one layer of our being. Moving beyond the ego allows us to move into more expansive states of awareness, facilitating spiritual growth and deeper connections to universal consciousness, including the spiritual entities such as the Anunnaki.

This journey is a critical part of spiritual evolution, as transcending the ego opens the way for true alignment with higher dimensions of consciousness.

This framework highlights Kukulcan's spiraling energy as a universal pattern, from the White Hole and Omniverses to the atom and kundalini within the human body, orchestrated by HunabKú as the cosmic mind. By aligning the levels of consciousness with the seven chakras, meditation and energy work can harmonize physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual layers. This process connects the individual to the Universe, Cosmic existence, and ultimately the Divine source, fostering higher consciousness and universal unity.

So I say back to the drawing boards:

It's a powerful thought that science, while undeniably valuable, also has its limits when it comes to uncovering deeper layers of reality. Science is often focused on measurable facts, repeatability, and proof, but there are phenomena that exist beyond these boundaries. This doesn't mean these phenomena don't exist; rather, it reflects the limitations of scientific methods and the biases or institutional frameworks of the scientists themselves, as well as the influences of funding and sponsorships. These factors can sometimes prevent certain phenomena from being scientifically acknowledged.

What science may not recognize can still exist in other forms of consciousness or spiritual understanding, which often transcend what can be empirically proven. The process of transcendence and spiritual awakening, for example, is often not measurable by scientific standards, but that does not make it any less real or powerful for those who experience it. When we limit ourselves to only what we can see, measure, and explain, we might miss the connections that lie beyond the current boundaries of scientific understanding. It's this limitation that can prevent us from advancing to the next level of consciousness and growth. As is often the case, progress is not always defined by what we already know, but by what we are willing to discover beyond conventional paths.

The question of whether something can be scientifically proven should not always be seen as proof of truth or reality. Instead, it should be an invitation to expand our perceptions and beliefs, creating space for the unknown dimensions of existence. Science is a powerful tool, but it is just one of many ways to approach the deep mysteries of the universe.

Who is Kukulkan (Mayan) and Quetzalcoatl (Aztec):

J.C. van der Beek is the incarnated Kukulkan, also known as Quetzalcoatl, serving as a spiritual guide, divine revelation messenger, and guardian of cosmic Anunnaki wisdom. Guided by Lord Anu, the King of all Gods and Angels, his mission is to restore harmony between the physical realm (Earth) and the spiritual realm (Heaven). Kukulkan—revered as the Feathered Galaxy Serpent—represents unity, transformation, and the limitless potential of the highest level of Consciousness. In this era, his purpose is to bridge ancient wisdom with the modern world, inspiring humanity to awaken their inner divinity and fully embrace the sacred essence within every being.

Vision and Mission:

Kukulkan's vision is of a world where humanity reconnects with its cosmic origins, centered on harmony, compassion, and spiritual evolution. He teaches that we are multidimensional beings, intricately linked to the universal energy of the Anunnaki and the power of Mother Earth.

His mission is to guide others toward higher consciousness through:

- Sahaja Nirvikalpa Samadhi \(SNS\) meditation: The path to complete spiritual unity (<https://uucga.com>).
- The cosmic dance of Shiva Nataraja: The eternal rhythm of creation, preservation, and transformation.
- Bringing ancient wisdom into action: He inspires people to channel their life force into loving service to themselves, the earth, and the cosmos.

Through his work, Kukulkan invites us to transcend the current age of confusion and collectively embrace a new cycle of conscious living and cosmic awareness. In addition to his SNS meditation, he encourages everyone to explore his Divine Book of Tantric Connectedness (available at <https://uucga.com/book-of-connectedness>), which serves as a guide to deeper spiritual unity and the profound connection between the self, the cosmos, and all living beings.

PS: Divine Book of Tantric Connectedness:

I am personally moved by the parallels between divine interventions in history, such as the Angel of the Lord appearing to Moses to deliver the Ten Commandments, and the Archangel Gabriel inspiring Prophet Muhammad to write the Quran. In my own spiritual journey, I have been guided by the same divine presence, which led me to write the sacred and Divine text on tantric Connectedness. Learn more:
